CIVIL COURTS. WEDNESDAY, Nov. 23. An action was brought into the Court of Common Pleas by Christiana Reitz against Rudolph Yenni and Daniel Nosh, to recover the value of a quantity of household farniture and other property, which had been attached on an execution against Louis Haubennestel, at the corper of Ludlow and Hudson-streets, but which the plaintiff skims as belonging to her under a bill of sale from said Haubennestel. The parties kept a porter house, and also a shoemaker's shop and a barber's shop on the premises slided to. The main feature in the case is, that if aubeanestel and a woman believed to be his wife had quarrelled and the latter loft him; after which the plat-tiff and Haubeunestel lived together, passed us man and wife and brought yesterday a little boy into Court, which was stated to be theirs. The counsel contended that the plaintiff could not sustain the action, prima facie evidence being presented that she was really the wife of Maubeunestel. The latter was placed on the stand to prove otherwho but the Judge ruled that he should not proceed, ob serving that the law would not allow persons living together as man and wife to be witnesses for each other .-

The jury found for defendants. In the same Court an action was brought by Henderson Green, bookseller, against Thomas W. Faulkner, for the recovery of a lot of books held by the latter in the hands of the Shariff, as lien to the amount of $130 for binding them. The lien was held to be good and the jury found for defendant, giving him his claim and costs, and he

WEDNESDAY, November 24. f James Hunt, mentioned in our Police Report yesterday is not the James Hunt, Attorney, corner of Broadway and John-street.

THE LATE STARRING CASE .- On Tuesday morning we gave a brief account of the stabbing of a man named John Kernan, of No. 234 Elizabeth street, at the Montgomery House, No. 76 Prince-street, on Sunday evening, and of the arrest of three men, named Wheeler, Wood and Bredy, charges with having committed the offence. Yes terday we had an opportunity to examine the voluminous testimony taken before Justice Taylor of the Upper Police Office, and thence derived the following facts: It appeared that John Kerwan, his brother Patrick, of No. 56 Marion-street, and a man samed Thomas O'Brien, of 16 Stanton errect, were in the above public house in Prince street on Sunday evening, when Henry Wheeler, Edward Wood and Patrick Brady entered and called for liquor which John O'Conner, the bar-keeper, refused to them, saying they did not sell on Sundays, and telling them to go elsewhere and get it. One of the company supposed to be C'sirien, then said he believed they d-d spies, alluding to the fact of Green, the keeper of the house, having been complained of for selling liquor on the Sabbath. Wheeler and Wood approached O'Brien, the former striking him, when Brady, saying he was the man for O'Bries, struck hlm, and he in return struck Brady .-John Kerwan then west up to prevent two men from and returned the blow, and the fight becam reperal. Kerwan a d O'Brien, during the affray, both tried out they were stable d. John Kerwan was conveyed to the house of his brothe: in Marion-street, where Dr Afred C. Post dressed the would, and he was conveyed home, having lost about hree quarts of blood. Dr. Pos at the instance of the Corener and Justice Taylor, made an aute-mor tem examination, and found the wound thre inches above and to the left of the navel, entering the cavity of the abdomen, the coats of the stomach being senetiated, the omentum partly protruding, and the pa hathe was wounded by eather Brady or Wheeler, and they with Wood, were arrested and imprisoned, bail be merefused, as K rwan is in imminent peril of his life. Office long conveyed home his wound was examine. by Dr. Post, one of which was found to be in the left sid of the chest, between the minth and teach ribs, and as h coughed blood and breathed with difficulty, it was inferred that his longs were wound d. There was also a wound in the abdomen, 3 inches above the navel, penetrating th

State of the Domestic or Country Market. Reported for The New-York Tribune.

We have very little change to notice in any of the articles mentioned under this head in our last week's paper. BUTTER continues to arrive in very large quantities, and the best dairies command full prices, say from 20 to 25 cents. The steamboat Wassington, of Newburg, care in on Tuesday with about 1000 firkins, mostly of the choicest qualities, and found very ready sale. The value of the products of the dairy in the State of New-York, ccording to the U. S. census for 1840, was $10.497 032. DRIED FRUIT .- Apples are a lattle more in demand. nd the prices are tending upward. Sales at $1 124 a 1 372 per bushel. Pesches continue scarce. $5.25 a bushel was refused for 100 bbls yesterday. Plumbs sell at about 3.25 a 3.50 a bushel, and are not pleuty.

Horses.

This is the season of the year that persons residing in the city generally sell off their horses; some because they have no use for them, and others because they are nuable to winter them; while not a few of our young bloods find it a convenient way of raising a small portion of the sum which they owe to the livery stables. nity of supplying themselves with horses for their farm-It not unfrequently happens that they are able to purchase at our public sales, horses for 40 or $50, worth to them on their farms as much or more than such as would command sons coming on from the interior a distance of severa hundred miles, and buying them up on speculation. Th principal places of sales in the city are—

Tattersail's, in Broadway. Sales every Monday. At this place, eccasionally, horses of the greatest value are offered and sold. They are now selling from 30 to 35 horses per week, and at prices from $40 to $150.

Coman's Bazaar, Crosby street. Sales every Wednes day. The sales at this place are about to the same extent as at the former.

The Hippona. Sales every Saturday. At this place there are not quite so many horses sold, and as a general thing, it may be said they are not quite so valuable athose sold at either of the other places.

The Horse Market, near Buil's Head. Sales

aturday. It is rarely the case that a horse of the value of $50 is sold at this market. It appears to be the general depot of all the worn-out stage, cart, and service horse in the city, and the sales vary from $1 up to $15 and $30 for a horse.

Once in a while a green-horn from the countryses-gets must awfully shaved at so establishments, especially at the Market. It is well for those not accustomed to the business, on their first appear ance to be respectfully shy

The near approach of wister causes the manufacturers and dealers in sleighs to brusk up their old and finish up their new ones so as to exhibit them to the best advantage and he ready for a sale the first snow that falls. We have noticed some of most exqisite beauty and workmanship. Our dealers generally have factories in the country-Newark, New-Haven, Bridgport and Albany are the prin cipal places of manufacture. We have never seen a many, nor such elegant ones, as are now on sale.

QUARTO NEW WORLD.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE FOURTH VOLUME, COMMENCING JANUARY 1, 1842.

EDITED BY PARK BENJAMIN.

During the two years which have elapsed since "THE New World " was begun, it has been the effort of the editor to render it the most readable newspaper of the tributed. Neither trouble nor expense has been spared. The most popular books and periodicals have been purcorrespondence with the most interesting parts of the Br the use of the world has been established. In short, the best arrangemeats have been made to publish an independent literary journal acceptable to all classes of readers.
